FINANCE. It will be seen by our dispatches that the New York money market still labors under great excitement and the values of bonds and stocks vary with every hour. Simibefore and their can be no estimate made as to the result of this state of affairs as existing in Well street, Speculation nations which are now at work, as well nearly a cash business. ascreated a distrust in the minds of outside holders of these securities which will not soon be allowed.

Our money market works along quietly with currency in good supply—ample for all the demands of business—while the receipts from the East are rapidly falling off. At one of our banks the currency received by express during the week would not exceed $150,000, against $400,000 received that week before, and during the coming week it is expected that the counier demand for exchange will absorb nearly if not all the bills offered, so that no currency is looked for from other sources. The offerings are lighter than last week, and buying rates have eased up, but are still irregular, ranging from to discount on tregular, ranging from the discount on the still irregular. The still is some backs are continuously to the still in the the bills offered, so that no currency is surious to buy, to it discount, form which others make no deviation. Stocks of all kinds are large, except in striped cottons. There is a large demand for this style of goods, with light supply. Muny of our dealers took advantage of the low freights prevailing some time ago, and laid in large stocks of prints, which are now selling here as low as they can be bought in New York. We quote Sprague's best brands at 124c. In boots and shoes there is but little if any abstement in the demand. The same buyers are on the market almost every week or two in order to replanish their stocks. Only a few country dealers buy largely, the majority preferring to dualicate their orders as occasion may require. The trade so far this month will, we think, compare favorably with WALKER BROTHERS & CO., Prices are steady on all seasonable goods.

Manufacturers generally are holding back, and making up as few goods as possible; this course, in consideration of the present financial pressure, is right,
